DINOSAURS & LOLLIPOPS

by Jude and Laila Rahhal

Thousands and thousands of years ago,
there was a purple dinosaur who lived all by himself in a big, beautiful garden.

In that garden, there was a giant yellow tree that grew marshmallows in every colour. And it was lovely.

But one day, it started growing lollipops.

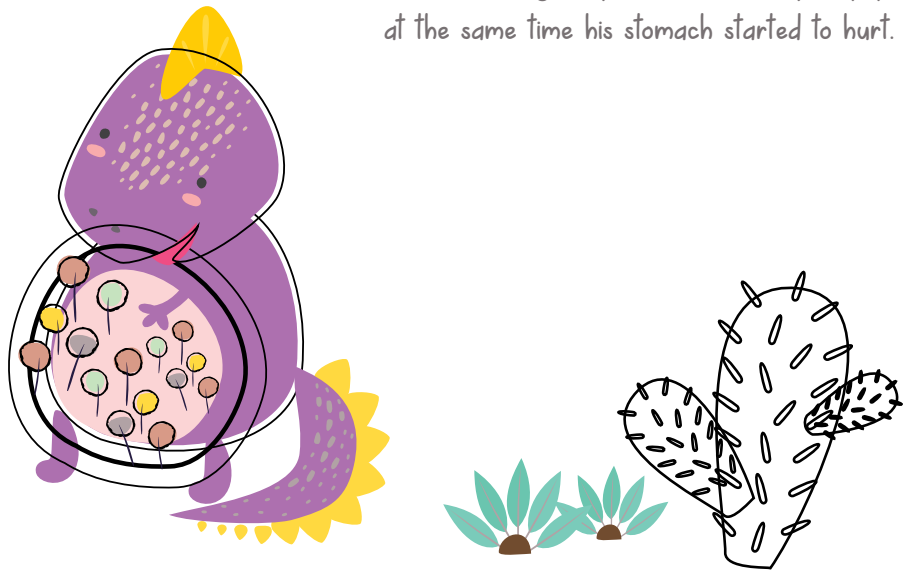

And that made the dinosaur
very, very happy because he loved lollipops more than anything else
in this world.

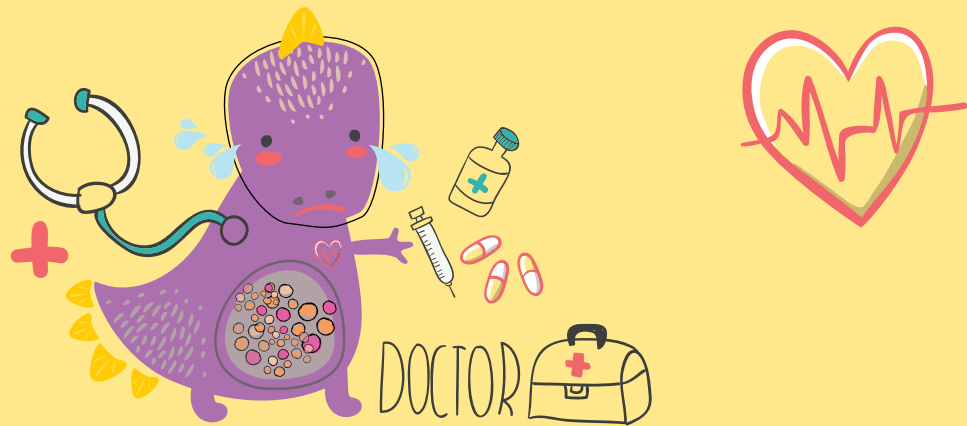

His favourite was peach and pink
and he could never stop at one.

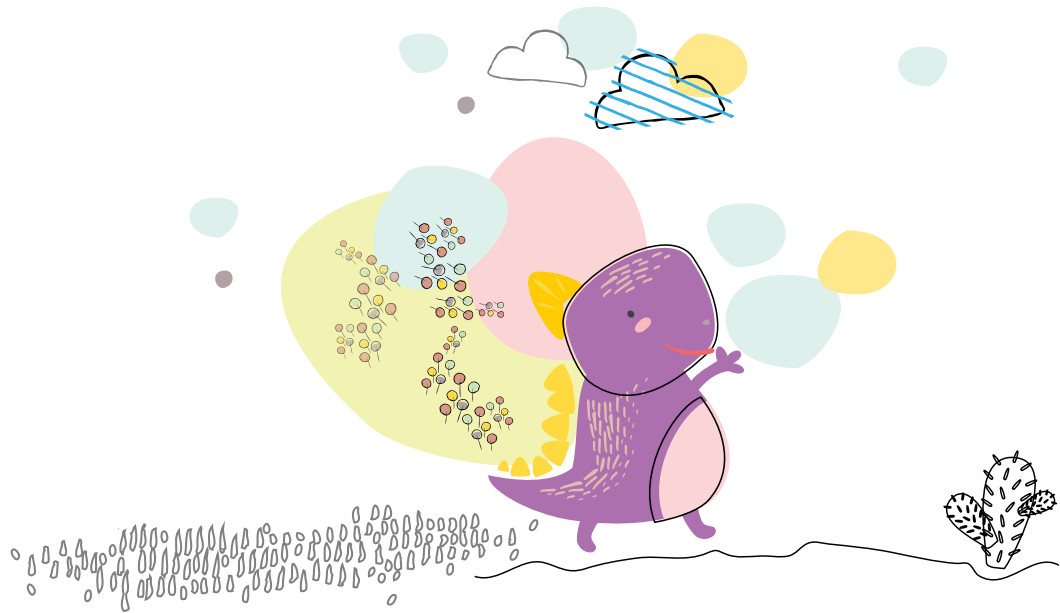

He was a bit greedy. He ate so many lollipops at the same time his stomach started to hurt.

But the doctor arrived and made him feel better.

And so the dinosaur lived happily ever after eating lollipops all his life.

The End
